Mr. Athanasios Kontravellas

New Britain, Conn.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the coin which you brought here yesterday, I beg to advise that the member of whom I spoke offers Twenty-five Dollars ($25) for it, but he insists on seeing it before paying for it. He says he would, also, be glad to see the bracelet of which you spoke if you will send it on at the same time. If possible, we should like to have you place a valuation on the bracelet.

Kindly have the package sent by registered mail.

Very truly yours,

SPH/E

Mr. A. Kontrovellos
13 Lafayette Street
New Britain, Conn.

Dear Sir:

I have shown your coin to the person I thought would buy it but he already has one and does not care for this.

The man who thought he would like to purchase it when you offered the coin to us a year ago is now in Europe, and it is extremely doubtful if he would desire it now, therefore you had better offer it elsewhere.

I am herewith returning the coin, kindly send me the receipt for same.

Very truly yours,
